The councils in Greater Lincolnshire are asking people if they want to make more decisions themselves on things like jobs, education, transport, housing and the environment.

This is instead of the Government making the decisions and is called devolution.

A new authority would make the decisions and get more money from the Government.

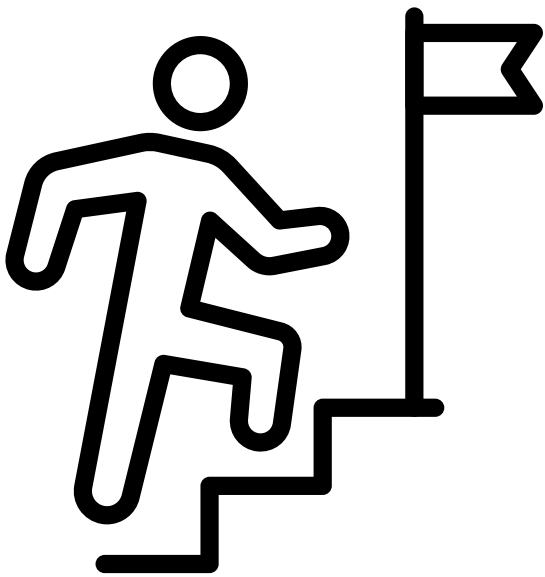

We would like you to answer the questions and send them back to us. See how to do this at the end of this leaflet.

Tick the box you agree with the most.

Question 1: New jobs

If devolution happens the new authority would be able to decide about supporting businesses to create new jobs in Greater Lincolnshire.
